

The Harbinger - A Commentary-Part 2.2

As we now enter into the second part of the ancient mystery, it becomes clearer that the first warning resulting in the 9/11 calamity has not been addressed correctly by the American leaders, the nation and its people. How the second calamity comes about and how it is triggered by the first is fascinating and concerning. How far behind America are we in Australia? How defiant do we have to get before there is an Australian Harbinger, or Harbingers? Have the warnings already been given but we are too deaf to hear?

The Isaiah 9:10 Effect.

01. So, exactly when did you see him again? Anna asked. Well, as I said it was seven years later. I was working on a project in lower Manhattan near the New York stock exchange. On a walk one day I stopped and was staring at the columns, the famous side, when I heard the voice. “How are you Nouriel? I see you didn’t forget?” He hadn’t changed...nor had his long dark coat. “What have you been doing these last seven years?” Nouriel asked. “Watching” the prophet replied. “Watching for what?” “Watching for the second part.” he answered, “Are you ready to begin the second part of the mystery?” “I’ve never been ready.” Nouriel answered “but I’m willing to give it a go.”

02. “What comes after Isaiah 9:10” “ahh, Isaiah 9:11”. “No, not the number Nouriel, ...the words.” ‘Therefore the Lord shall set up the adversaries of Rezin against him, and spur his enemies on.’ The prophet then went on to explain. “The nation’s first shaking is followed by a second because the nation did not wake up or turn back to God after the first. Isaiah 9:10 is a prophecy of a future calamity. The two are connected. The first brings about the second. It’s what the nation did once the vow was made that determined its future.” “So by executing the vow” Nouriel added, “the vow to defy the first calamity...the nation ends up ushering in a second. Or put another way, the second disaster is brought about by the very campaign designed to prevent it.” The prophet smiled “I see you have matured in observation over the last seven years Nouriel.”

03. “It is more than that though, Nouriel, you can’t solve a problem by dealing with its symptoms. You have to deal with the root cause behind it. Israel’s real problem was a spiritual one-its separation from God. The problem wasn’t national security or defence or even the Assyrian attack. If a nation’s underlying problem is spiritual, then all the political, economic or military solutions will do nothing to remove it. A spiritual problem can only be solved by a spiritual solution.” Nouriel confirmed “So the only solution is a return to God.” “You are correct Nouriel. In Israel’s case, the problem had only been masked by their efforts to fix the problem. The root problem was never addressed.” Nouriel suggested, “ Then it all began with the vow.” “Yes, it was the vow that set it all in motion” the prophet replied, “ and it was the defiant spirit behind the vow that triggered a chain of events that would ultimately bring about the nation’s destruction.”

04. “Nouriel, is it possible that you still have the last seal I gave you?” Nouriel reached into his coat pocket and gave it to the prophet. It just so happened, that he happened to be wearing the same coat as the last time he had seen the prophet. The prophet held up the seal and began to speak “ You see it has a double image...a second image.” Nouriel commented, “As in there comes a second.” The prophet nodded. “The prophecy has a second part, it leads to something else...The Isaiah 9:10 Effect. Which is defined as: ‘The attempt of a nation to defy the course of its judgement, apart from repentance, will, instead, set in motion a chain of events to bring about the very calamity it sought to avert.’”

05. “And this has something to do with America?” Anna asked Nouriel. “Yes, the prophet said, seven years after 9/11 the American economy collapsed, it triggered a global economic implosion. Behind the collapse of Wall St. and the American economy was Isaiah 9:10.” “I’m a bit lost.” Anna said, swinging her chair around to face Nouriel. Nouriel continued, “The Isaiah 9:10 Effect says, the second calamity must be effectively born out of the first...and out of the nation’s response to that first calamity.” “I’m starting to follow you...go on Nouriel.” “The rebuilding at Ground Zero, was never just about building, it was also about the rebuilding of the nation. Remember the vow associated with the Gazet stone ‘It will remain forever a symbolic cornerstone for the rebuilding of New York and the nation.’ It was about turning the vow into reality. Isaiah 9:10 would become the nation’s foreign policy and domestic policy.” “I’m starting to follow you now” Anna voiced, “America after 9/11, like Israel, embarked on a campaign of rebuilding its walls of protection, strengthening its systems of defence. This would lead to launching a global war against terror, and the two conventional wars abroad, one in Afghanistan and the other in Iraq.” “You are nearly getting ahead of me Anna...slow down.” Nouriel smiled. They were starting to get along really well now. Anna’s skepticism was long gone. Nouriel finished the train of thought “So, then, as America vowed to emerge stronger than before and wage war against 9/11, the Isaiah 9:10 Effect was set in motion.” Anna nodded her understanding.

06. “Each campaign born out of that defiance would end up producing a backlash was what the prophet said.” “He then showed me how these campaigns required massive expenditures. Multiple billions of dollars were diverted from the federal budget to fund them. This in turn produced surging oil prices, and skyrocketing of national debt.” “And all this would lead up to the economic collapse” Anna suggested. “That’s right.” Nouriel replied. “However, the prophet said, the most critical effect of the calamity on the American and global economy began six days after the 9/11 attack. The American economy had already begun to slow at the beginning of 2001, the interest rate was lowered to 3.5 percent. So it was, after 9/11, the first economic impact of the attack was the closing down of the New York Stock Exchange on the same day of the attack, but when it reopened six days later it suffered the largest point crash in Wall St. history. In the months following 9/11 there was a pervading fear that the calamity would cause a haemorrhage in the national economy. But it was already too late, the Isaiah 9:10 Effect had already kicked in with the proclaiming of the vow on Capitol Hill, on September 12.

07. The prophet said, “Over the next three months the interest rate was slashed until it hit a low of 1.75% on December 11th 2001. This forced the interest rate below the rate of inflation, which is equivalent to creating free money. By June 2003, the rate reached 1 percent and this was what escalated the collapse of the American and global economy. Extreme easy rates set up an era of easy money. Easy loans, easy borrowings, and easier mortgages. This led to an explosion in the housing market with home owners borrowing and spending against the rising value of their homes. The stock market would surge along with the volume of monies borrowed and leveraged. The effect would spread throughout the world, being: credit bubbles, building and housing booms, and exploding markets.” “Was this wrong?” Anna asked. “The prophet said it wasn’t...if it was just about rebuilding and replacing something, except there was more involved, something much more involved. A nation in spiritual decline and a rapid departure from God. As such it linked Isaiah 9:10 to the Isaiah 9:10 Effect.” He then quoted me again the definition of the Isaiah 9:10 Effect ‘The attempt of a nation to defy the course of its judgement, apart from repentance, will, instead, set in motion a chain of events to bring about the very calamity it sought to avert.’

08. “The extreme and prolonged lowering of interest rates sowed the seeds of future disaster. The explosion in credit would lead to a massive explosion in debt. Personal debt, government debt, and corporate debt all mushroomed. While the stock market continued to rise and the housing market continued to boom the illusion could be sustained...but it was an economic house of cards.”

“Seven years after 9/11, in September of 2008, the American financial system began to implode, triggering the greatest economic disaster since the Great Depression. The American led economic explosion then turned into an American led economic implosion. The house of cards was collapsing and drawing the world into the vortex. And so behind the entire global economic collapse...was Isaiah 9:10. It all began in the ruins of 9/11.” “Did anyone else see the connection between the economic collapse and 9/11?” Anna asked. “In time it became clear to more and more analysts...but not initially.” Nouriel answered. “Did he say anymore?” Anna asked, seeking to get to a conclusion on the subject. “Before he left he gave me the sixth seal again...the fallen sycamore...but he did say one more thing.”

“He said, ‘Notice Nouriel, the dynamic keeps getting larger. It all begins with the voicing of the ancient vow. Then it becomes a direction, then the policy for the entire nation, and then a collapse affecting the entire world. The Harbingers draw in everything to themselves, from the Federal Reserve to the global economy. They touch the entire world, and no one realises that it’s all part of the ancient mystery.’”
